Superintendent

The Honorable Joe Manchin III
Governor of West Virginia
State Capitol Building
Charleston, WV 25305

Dear Governor Manchin:

In compliance with Chapter 5, Article 1, Section 20 of the Code of West Virginia, the Annual Report of the West Virginia State Police for July 01, 2007 through June 30, 2008 is respectfully submitted for your consideration.

The contents of this report reflect the ongoing efforts of the State Police in providing the highest standards of law enforcement capabilities possible to the citizens of this great state. This report shows advances and accomplishments the organization has made in its continuing effort to effectively serve the citizens of West Virginia.

The previous fiscal year has seen our agency advance the service and protection we can provide to the citizenry of this great state through the efforts in the reduction of illegal drug activities, the enforcement of laws for crimes against our children and the improvement of patrol and State Police interaction with the public.

During my time as Superintendent, I have found the sworn members and civilian employees of the West Virginia State Police to be fully committed in fulfilling this agency's missions of maintaining the safety of the citizens of West Virginia on the highways and engaging the criminal element on all fronts.

I feel this report reflects the dedication of the personnel of this organization and I am sure you will join with me in complimenting the employees of the West Virginia State Police for a job well done during the previous year.

Respectfully submitted,

Colonel D. L. Lemmon
Superintendent

Organizational Summary

During the summer of 1919, the West Virginia State Police, originally known as the Department of Public Safety, was created during one of the most tumultuous times the State of West Virginia has ever known. The unionization of coal miners throughout the State and the violence that ensued, Prohibition, and political corruption led Governor John Jacob Cornwell to propose legislation that would lead to the birth of the agency. Today, steeped in a rich heritage, the West Virginia State Police is known for providing professional law enforcement services to the citizens of West Virginia and is nationally recognized for its efforts. Advances in communications, computer technology, forensic science, equipment and training have poised the State Police to continue its proud tradition of service nearly 90 years after its creation.

As West Virginia's statewide law enforcement agency, the State Police is charged with the responsibility of general and special law enforcement and criminal investigation services with concentration in rural, unincorporated areas of the State. Troopers conduct traffic enforcement for both unincorporated areas and interstate highways, and provide security and police services throughout the state for many athletic events, fairs and festivals. In addition to criminal investigation, traffic patrol, and security related duties, the State Police provide the following services to law enforcement agencies and governmental entities within the State:

- Executive Protection Services
- Legislative Security
- Forensic Laboratory Services
- The Central Criminal Records Repository for All State Arrests and Dispositions
- Law-enforcement Training, Certification and In-service
- Assisting Other Law Enforcement Agencies in Criminal Investigations
- The Central Clearinghouse for Law Enforcement Reporting Data
- The West Virginia Motor Vehicle Inspection Program
- Provide Assistance to Other Public Agencies in Response to Natural Disasters and Other Emergencies

In order to accomplish the mission of the State Police and perform the duties and responsibilities required, the Department is comprised primarily of four divisions – Executive Services, Staff Services, Field Operations and Professional Standards. Personnel within Staff and Executive Services perform the administrative, accounting, and executive services necessary to operate the Department and is located primarily within Department Headquarters at South Charleston, West Virginia. Existing organizationally within Executive Services is Planning and Research, Media Relations, and Legal Services. Staff Services is comprised of Accounting, Communications, Criminal Records, Forensic Laboratory, Personnel, Procurement, Traffic Records, and Uniform Crime Reporting. There were 18 uniformed members assigned to the various sections within Staff and Executive Services as of June 30, 2008. Professional Standards is a separate unit of Department Headquarters reporting directly to the Superintendent.

Field Operations is the operational and largest division within the State Police. Field Operations is responsible for providing necessary police functions to citizens of this State. These functions are provided on a daily basis by seven uniformed Field Troops, which are divided into 20 Districts consisting of 60 Detachments. In addition to the seven uniformed Troops, the Bureau of Criminal Investigations (BCI) provides personnel statewide for undercover and criminal investigations. Special Operations, Child Abuse and Neglect Investigations Unit, Executive Protection, and the Training Academy are found organizationally within Field Operations. There were 619 uniformed members assigned to Field Operations as of June 30, 2008. The West Virginia State Police employed 349 civilian employees throughout the agency as of June 30, 2008, as well.

Troop 1 consists of 12 counties located in the northern section of West Virginia including Brooke, Doddridge, Hancock, Harrison, Marion, Marshall, Monongalia, Ohio, Preston, Taylor, Tyler and Wetzel.

During the 2008 Fiscal Year, Troop 1 investigated 1730 traffic crashes, the most of any other Troop within the agency. However, traffic crashes within the Troop have steadily declined since 2004.

This decrease in crashes may be attributed to the visibility of Troopers in northern West Virginia who had the second highest amount of traffic citations and warnings for moving violations and the second highest number of motorist assists.

Field Operations – Troop 8, Bureau of Criminal Investigations (BCI)

Captain David L. Lemmon II
Troop Commander

The West Virginia State Police Bureau of Criminal Investigations (BCI) is a specialized unit that concentrates primarily on the investigation of felony related crimes. The crimes investigated by BCI range from investigations of violent crimes, drugs, organized crime, political corruption, prescription fraud, insurance fraud, computer crimes, marijuana eradication, cold cases, polygraph examinations, as well as a host of many other crimes. BCI is further supported within its own ranks by Investigative Support Services unit, which houses the Insurance Fraud, Polygraph and Drug Diversion Units; as well as Marijuana Eradication, Digital Forensics, Technical Operations and Cold Case Units. Another facet of BCI is the Criminal Intelligence unit, which includes the West Virginia Intelligence Exchange (WVIX).

The headquarters for all BCI operations is located in Dunbar, Kanawha County. BCI field components are divided throughout the state into six regions. The focus of the BCI regions is the investigation of the illegal distribution of narcotics and violent crimes. In many instances, BCI investigators assigned to regions are also co-located with multi-jurisdictional drug task forces serving in capacities as Task Force Commanders or Investigators. Investigators assigned to the regions receive advanced training in narcotics investigations and other investigative techniques to further the operational effectiveness of the Unit.

BCI also allocates resources to the efforts of the Appalachia High Intensity Drug Trafficking Area (HIDTA) project. HIDTA's mission is to reduce the impact of regional drug production, trafficking, and distribution in Kentucky, Tennessee, and West Virginia as well as other parts of the country. Twelve counties in West Virginia are affected by the HIDTA project, they include Boone, Braxton, Cabell, Gilmer, Kanawha, Lewis, Lincoln, Logan, Mason, McDowell, Mingo and Wayne.

Cases investigated by BCI that reflect the efforts of the unit include investigations that lead to the conviction of drug dealers and those who conspire with them. One such case was investigated, tried and the accused found guilty in northern West Virginia. The accused was found guilty in United States District Court, Northern District of West Virginia, of conspiracy to distribute, aid and abet distribution, and possession with intent to distribute crack cocaine. The accused was sentenced to 165 months (13 ¾ years) in prison and 5 years supervised release.

Other investigations included the conviction of a physician who was sentenced to 87 months (7 ¼ years) in federal prison for illegally prescribing prescription pain medication to individuals, which was perpetuating the prescription drug abuse problem in West Virginia, and the conclusion of multijurisdictional investigation of pharmaceutical giant Purdue Pharma. Makers of the widely abused prescription medication Oxycontin, Perdue Pharma and its top officials were convicted of misleading the public about the medication as a result of the investigation, which led to substantial fines to the company in excess of $600 million.

Headquarters – Troop 0, Professional Standards

Captain Gordon A. Ingold
Director

The Professional Standards Section is the Superintendent’s principle point of contact regarding the professional conduct of both sworn and civilian members of the agency. It serves as a collection and dissemination point for allegations of misconduct lodged against State Police employees, and ensures these allegations are thoroughly investigated. It provides an avenue through which the public can have complaints addressed and through which the Superintendent can receive complete and accurate information when determining appropriate action to address these complaints. The operation of the Professional Standards Section is governed by West Virginia Legislative Rule 81CSR10. The rule addresses procedures for receiving and investigating complaints, employee rights, the early identification system, psychological assessment, and progressive discipline.

The Professional Standards Section is supervised by a Section Director who holds the rank of Captain and answers directly to the Superintendent. In addition to the Director, the section is staffed with a secretary at Department Headquarters and an inspector at each Troop Headquarters who perform investigations and inquiries on behalf of the section. Investigations and inquiries are reviewed by the Director for thoroughness, correctness, and completeness before being submitted to the Superintendent for closure.

The Superintendent closes allegations of misconduct in one of six ways: Sustained, Not Sustained, Unfounded, Exonerated, Policy Failure, or Withdrawn. During Fiscal Year 2008, the section received and investigated 244 complaints involving 336 allegations of misconduct. A complaint may allege more than one act of misconduct or additional acts of misconduct may be uncovered during an investigation. The accompanying chart illustrates the adjudication of those allegations.

Sustained	152	45%
Not Sustained	81	24%
Unfounded	61	18%
Exonerated	31	18%
Policy Failure	0	0%
Withdrawn	11	4%
Total	336	100%

Complaints or allegations of misconduct are generated externally from citizens, and internally by employees of the Department and by State Police Accident Review Board who determines if an employee is at fault in vehicle crash involving a department vehicle. Complaints are accepted from the public by any means including those received in person, by mail, by the Internet or by telephone. During the 2008 Fiscal Year, 67 percent of the complaints were received from citizens and 33 percent were generated from within the department.

As mentioned, Legislative Rule 81CSR10 authorizes the Professional Standards Section to maintain and administer the early identification system that identifies employees who may be at risk of job related or other stressors that increase the likelihood of performance problems and complaints of misconduct. Additionally, the section also administers both the uniformed and non-uniformed employee grievance procedures and the random drug-testing program utilized by the Department. The section is also tasked with conducting inspections of State Police owned, leased, or maintained facilities, equipment, and personnel to ensure compliance with State Police Policy and Procedure. Professional Standards also reviews vehicle pursuits and reports of response to resistance or aggression by members of the Department to ensure compliance with established policies and procedures.

Executive Services – Planning and Research

Lieutenant G. E. McCabe
Chief of Professional & Tech
Services/ Promotional
Standards Officer

The Planning and Research Section of the State Police serves as support for Executive Services, Staff Services and Field Operations. The responsibilities of the Section include three major areas: general planning, promotional system oversight and policy development and implementation.

General planning responsibilities include development of short and long-range goals for the West Virginia State Police at the direction of the Superintendent, providing research and development support to other sections throughout the Department and work cooperatively with the Field Operations, as may be required, to meet established objectives and improve Department law enforcement and non-law enforcement responses.

The West Virginia State Police Career Progression System provides for career advancement opportunities that are administered by the Planning & Research Section, pursuant to the direction of the Promotional Standards Officer. These duties include coordination of all promotional events and reclassification requests for sworn members.

Policy development and implementation involves research, drafting, dissemination and training of new and revised policies. The section receives and applies input regarding operational practices from a variety of sources and continually reviews and modifies existing policy and develops new policies as directed by the Superintendent.

During the State Legislative Session, Planning & Research personnel operate as support staff to uniformed members assigned to the Legislative Security Detail. A comprehensive database of proposed Bills is maintained, their status monitored, and copies provided to the Superintendent and designated staff for review.

Planning & Research provides direct assistance to the office of the Superintendent and other senior department managers in matters of daily and special operations.

Executive Services – Legal Section

The Legal Section of the West Virginia State Police consists of two attorneys, both of whom are Assistant Attorney Generals, and a legal secretary. The section is housed within Department Headquarters and deals with a multitude of legal issues that range from civil to criminal.

In addition, the legal division continues to handle all grievance hearings in the department for members and civilian employees. The Section handles all Circuit and Supreme Court appeals that arise from these cases, as well as handling any unemployment hearings resulting from employee or member terminations. The Section also prepares written briefs or oral arguments on all civil or criminal appeals that directly affect the State Police, such as those pertaining to sexual offender registration, expungements and concealed weapons.

The Legal Section is responsible for assisting in teaching and researching issues for the West Virginia State Police. These areas include search and seizure, laws of arrest, evidence, police power and authority and witness skills.

In the witness skills program, the Legal Section, with the assistance of outside counsel, Assistant U.S. Attorneys, county prosecutors, and local public defenders, expose the Cadets to mock courtroom testimony, which includes rigorous cross-examination by these very experienced attorneys.

The Legal Section also provides instruction at all of the annual in-service training for State Police members. In this capacity, the Legal Section can update all members of pending or decided WV Supreme and U.S. Supreme Court holdings that affect law enforcement, as well as legal education on troublesome issues for the State Police that have arisen in the year preceding. The Legal Section aids in the development of new policies and procedures, training for key personnel and answering both administrative and field questions that pertain to the Department. They have also been asked to speak at professional seminars regarding various legal issues of which they have expertise. In addition, the attorneys answer a wide variety of legal questions from members in the field on a daily basis.

The Legal Section maintains the primary responsibility of the civil lawsuits filed against the Department. Historically, these lawsuits were assigned to outside counsel and handled exclusively by outside counsel through the entirety of the litigation. With the section's active participation in reviewing and monitoring civil litigation filed against the State Police, the monetary savings to the agency concerning civil settlements and verdicts continues to be significant. Moreover, the Section now appears as counsel of record on behalf of the Department in civil cases, which greatly reduces the enormous expense of retaining outside counsel in order to litigate civil matters on behalf of the Department.

Executive Services – Office of Public Affairs

Sergeant Jay C. Powers

The primary point of contact between the State Police and the news media is the Media Section. This section is responsible for the dissemination of information to the public and media entities via the Internet, news releases, press conferences and briefings.

Staff Services – Accounting

The Accounting Section of the State Police is located at Department Headquarters and is comprised of Accounts Payable, Budget, Payroll, Cash & Grants Management, Fringe Benefits and Auditing. Accounting is staffed with one part-time and 10 full-time civilians. Supervision falls within the responsibilities of the Comptroller and Assistant Comptroller.

Staff Services – Communications

The Communications Section is responsible for the communication operation requirements of the West Virginia State Police. The Section is responsible for two-way radio communications, radar units, in-car video systems, data information processing, maintenance and installation of computer systems and the Department telephone systems.

The Section is responsible for the operation of the National Crime Information Center (NCIC), the National Law Enforcement Telecommunications System (NLETS) and the West Virginia Automated Police Network (WEAPON) networks in West Virginia. The Section also provides assistance to federal, state, county and city agencies and 911 centers.

Communications has ten primary radio stations in operation seven days a week, twenty-four hours a day throughout the state. These stations are located in Beckley, Charles Town, Elkins, Huntington, Logan, Moundsville, Parkersburg, Romney, Shinnston and South Charleston.

The Section provided numerous WEAPON training classes during the fiscal year, including WEAPON Certification classes and Full Access/New Operator classes. WEAPON instruction was also provided to Cadet and Basic classes attending the Academy.

During the year, the Communications Section improved various systems within the State Police including:

- Worked in cooperation with the State Police Traffic Records Section to implement the Report Beam Crash Reporting System.
- Purchased 50 new digital in-car video camera systems for cruisers.
- Purchased 150 LED emergency light bars.
- Purchased 450 airbag on/off switches.
- Continued coordinated efforts with other stakeholders in pursuit of the statewide interoperable radio system.

Staff Services – Criminal Records

Lieutenant Michael G. Corsaro
Director

The Criminal Records Section was established in 1935 by Legislative Act. The original purpose was to receive and file fingerprints, photographs, records and other information pertaining to the investigation of crime and the apprehension of criminals. Further legislation has required the clerk of any court of record or magistrate to report to the Criminal Records Section any sentence or other disposition of criminal charges brought against any person. The prosecuting attorney of every county is also required to any additional information the Bureau may require. Since the inception of the section, criminal history record information (CHRI) has been processed and maintained in a manner fashioned from procedures followed by the Identification Division of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, and has done so with few procedural changes over the past 61 years. Criminal Records is comprised of six distinct sections, including:

- * Criminal Records
- * Bail Bond Enforcer Registry
- * Central Abuse Registry
- * Concealed Handgun Permits Registry
- * Sexual Offender Registry
- * Uniform Crime Reporting

During the year, the Criminal Records Section worked with the Department and the criminal justice community on numerous projects that include:

Implemented Phase II of the Domestic Violence Protection Order Registry through a contract with Computer Projects of Illinois (CPI).

Continued work on the enhancement of automated Bail Bond Enforcer information for release via the WEAPON system.

Improved the Sex Offender Registry operations by working closely with Field Operations to facilitate the gathering of offender information.

Improved the process of mailing sex offender registrations information electronically to designated recipients.

Continued with efforts to design and purchase the next generation AFIS solution for the State.

Using proceeds from the NCHIP Grant, the section was able to procure resources for a digital imaging system. The grant also will allow the State Police to undertake a Domestic Violence Flagging project to identify criminal records of individuals who have been charged with domestic violence and those individuals who have domestic violence convictions.

Staff Services – Forensic Laboratory

The Forensic Laboratory of the West Virginia State Police has provided forensic services continuously since it was organized in 1935. The Laboratory is supervised by a Director, a Quality Manager and nine Section Heads. It is staffed by 26 analysts and examiners who are qualified through education and experience to testify in state and federal courts. The Forensic Laboratory offers a broad range of forensic services, scientific examinations and expert testimony, without charge, to all law enforcement agencies operating within the state. Examinations are conducted only in connection with a crime, in support of a criminal investigation, or in the interest of public safety. The Laboratory is organized into seven forensic disciplines, including Drug Identification, Biochemistry, Firearm/Toolmark, Latent Prints, Toxicology, Trace Evidence and Questioned Documents. Also included in the Forensic Laboratory is the Evidence Processing/Receiving Section.

During the year, the Drug Section was remodeled to accommodate new instrumentation and additional workstations. Lead deposits on the floor, ceiling, and walls in the firing range in the firearms section have been encapsulated.

Notably, the Forensic Laboratory has decreased its overall backlog of cases by approximately 15 percent.

Staff Services – Personnel

The Personnel Section is responsible for the development and administration of personnel programs, records management, employment applications and processing, and the observance of state and federal employment regulations. The section maintains records including background investigations, evaluations, assignments, promotions and retirement files of State Police personnel.

During the fiscal year, other office activities included updating the Current and Former Members Directory, monitoring hours and completing personnel transactions for numerous temporary employees, all new hires and transfers, leave of absences, suspensions, promotions and longevity increases. The section was also responsible for civilian job postings, preparing voluntary transfer reports, managing the Leave Donation Program, monitoring workers compensation claims, microfilming records, and providing resource documents and other information to the WV Consolidated Public Retirement Board.

- Review and processing of “line of duty” medical billing.

The Section also manages the Temporary Alternative Duty (TAD) program, which provides a means of obtaining some form of useful work from personnel who are unable to perform full police duties while recuperating from injuries or illnesses.

The Medical Section, in cooperation with the Legal Section, is responsible for subrogation claims made on behalf of the Department when another party is at fault in an automobile crash.

Staff Services – Procurement

F/Sergeant Richard L. Pursley
Director

The Procurement Section is responsible for the acquisition and distribution of all goods and services integral to the day-to-day operations of the West Virginia State Police. In performing this task, every effort is extended to ensure that supplies, equipment and services obtained are of the highest quality available. Normally these items are obtained either by statewide contracts or by means of competitive bids solicited from reputable vendors who are registered to do business with the State of West Virginia.

During the past year, the Construction Section made several advances that included the renovation of the Huntington Detachment and construction of a garage on the site, as well as assisting in a major electrical upgrade for Department Headquarters. The Construction Section also performed a major renovation of the Criminal Records Section at Headquarters. Normal renovations and maintenance at facilities throughout the State continued within budget allocations.

One hundred forty three new 2008 model Ford Crown Vic Police Interceptors and 53 Chevrolet Impala cruisers were received. These vehicles were marked with the traditional blue and gold markings and light bars and distributed throughout the State. In addition, 55 new unmarked Chevrolet Impalas were received. These vehicles were assigned to support and administrative personnel, as well as members of the Executive Protection Unit. Twenty-six Chevrolet four-wheel drive Trailblazers were received and marked with traditional blue and gold markings. These vehicles were assigned to various Troops throughout the state to replace aging patrol vehicles in the State Police fleet. The section also received three unmarked Dodge Durango four-wheel drive vehicles to be utilized for special details in the State.

In addition to numerous inter-departmental requisitions, the Procurement Section processed a large amount of orders for Forensic Laboratory equipment paid for through the Purdue Pharma funding. The Printing and Graphic Arts Sections also completed numerous projects this year.

Staff Services – Traffic Records

Lieutenant Charles N. Zerkle Jr.
Director

The Traffic Records Section is a staff function of the West Virginia State Police. In this capacity, the section is responsible for collecting reports of accidents investigated by State Police Officers. These reports are indexed and made available to interested parties, such as insurance companies and persons involved in the accidents.

The Commission on Drunk Driving Prevention (CDDP) and the Fatal Analysis Reporting System (FARS) are other areas of responsibility for the Traffic Records Section. The Fatality Analysis Reporting System is designed to allow approximately one hundred eighty-eight (188) data elements to be coded in order to characterize various attributes of the crash, vehicle(s) and persons involved.

The West Virginia Motor Vehicle Inspection Program, which is administered by the Traffic Records Section of the West Virginia State Police, consists of an annual inspection of all motor vehicles registered in the state. Brakes, exhaust, steering, and other mechanical aspects of a motor vehicle are closely evaluated.

While imposing the responsibility and duty of annual inspection upon the motoring public, the West Virginia Inspection Program has also assumed certain obligations to the motorists. It assumes the normal obligations to ensure the program is responsible to public complaints and that it does, in fact, meet its stated objective of promoting public safety and welfare by eliminating mechanical defects in motor vehicles.

The Commission on Drunk Driving Prevention (CDDP) is required to develop and maintain a comprehensive program to prevent drunk driving. It is also required to enhance the enforcement of laws defining drunken driving offenses and inquire from state and local law enforcement agencies the availability and need for equipment and additional personnel for the effective enforcement of these laws. The CDDP also provides grants to state and local law enforcement agencies to purchase equipment or hire additional personnel. The Superintendent of the West Virginia State Police shall be the chairperson, Ex-Officio of the Commission and he shall appoint a member of his staff to be the Executive Director to oversee the Commission activities.
